

Annie Vamper Helping Hands Awards Nomination Form

Nomination Deadline: February 25, 2014

Name of the person you wis	sh to nominate
Name of their credit union
Contact person for further i	nformation
Day/Work Telephone	Evening/Weekend Telephone	Email Address
Nomination Questi	onnaire
This questionnaire should be completed by the person/credit union who is nominating an individual for an award. Please attach additional sheets as needed.
1. How long has the nom	inee been involved in the credit uni	on movement?
2. Which credit union(s)	has the nominee assisted, volunteer	ed in or worked for?
	he nominee has helped the credit ur now long, and what were the effects	ion(s) in which he or she served. What has ?
4. In your own words, please explain what makes this nominee especially deserving of this award?
		ration be able to assist him/her with their ive the award on Friday, May 16, 2014?
	∐Yes	□No
		will help our committee make a more n@cdcu.coop or (212) 809-1850 x 218 with any

Return this questionnaire with the nomination form and any supporting materials to:

National Federation of CDCUs Attn: Vamper Award Nominations 39 Broadway, Suite 2140 New York, NY 10006-3063

Or fax to: (212) 809-3274, Attention: Valerie Harrison

All nominations MUST be received by February 25, 2014!

About Annie Vamper

When Annie Wilma Vamper passed away on May 19, 1990, the community development credit union movement lost one of its heroes — and an important part of its history. For more than 30 years, Annie Vamper served in virtually every role that the credit union movement has to offer. Born in Bessemer, Alabama in 1933, she started as a volunteer with the College City Elks Lodge FCU in 1958. By 1962, she began working with the M.C.E. FCU, where she served as manager until 1966.

During the War on Poverty in the 1960s, Annie was recruited to become the Credit Union Coordinator for Dade Economic Opportunity Program in Florida, where she organized, chartered, and trained the staff of twelve neighborhood credit unions. Her work caught the attention of the Bureau of Federal Credit Unions, and she became a Limited-Income Credit Union Specialist for the Southeast Region. She joined the team of Project Moneywise, to promote consumer education and cooperation among low-income people. In 1972, as the nation began to turn away from the problems of the poor, Annie returned to managing a credit union, Coulter Electronics Employees FCU, where she served for 8 years before being recruited again by the National Credit Union Administration.

With the passage of the Community Development Credit Union Revolving Loan Fund, NCUA moved to establish a new CDCU division, and Annie became its second in command. But by 1982, the office was dissolved, a victim of deregulation and the ebbing interest in programs to help the poor. Annie accepted a transfer to New Jersey, where she entered into training to become a field examiner for NCUA. But by this time, her unique skills and interest no longer were valued by the agency. In September 1983, she left NCUA for the last time.

It was then that she came to the National Federation of CDCUs, joining its only remaining staff member, Cliff Rosenthal, in the rebuilding the Federation. She became Associate Director — and chief financial officer, Capitalization Program staff, regulatory analyst, and "godmother" to half a dozen new CDCUs formed during the 1980s.

Until her death in 1990, she gave every ounce of her strength, her commitment, and her love to the CDCU movement. In 1993, the "Helping Hands" Award was created to honor Annie Vamper's memory, along with the dedication of the Federation's training center at our New York City headquarters.

The "Helping Hands" Award celebrates those individuals whose unselfish work for the CDCU movement carry-on Annie's legacy.